

The Prayerful Writer

a daily devotional that you create

by

Carol Newman

“Writing is like praying, because you stop all other activities, descend into silence, and listen patiently to the depths of your soul, waiting for the true words to come.

When they do, you thank God because you know the words are a gift, and you write them down as honestly and as cleanly as you can.”

– Sister Helen Prejean, author of Dead Man Walking,
